

WEIRTON STEEL COMPANY DEFIES JOHNSON THREAT

Goes Ahead With Its Election: Decision by Courts Sure

Pittsburgh, Dec. 15—(AP)—In the face of threats of court action and NRA blue eagle revocation, balloting for collective bargaining representatives in the plants of the Weirton Steel Company got under way quietly today.

Employees began a peaceful trek to the polls at the Weirton and Clarksburg, W. Va., mills and the Steubenville, O., works, as even toward, perhaps the most momentous blue eagle test since the casting of the recovery act.

The casting of ballots began after a day and night of exchanges between Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the steel company, and Hugh S. Johnson, National Recovery Administrator.

"This is to inform you," Johnson told Weir in a telegram, "that in my opinion you are about to commit a deliberate violation of the federal laws and that, if you do so I shall request the Attorney General to proceed against you immediately. In the meantime I shall at once call an open meeting to determine whether your blue eagle shall be withdrawn."

"Let Courts Decide"

"If we are illegal, let the courts decide the issue," was the reply of the steel firm's head.

Weir said that in a telephone conversation with Johnson, between the time the NRA chief had released the telegram and Weir received it, the two had reached the conclusion that the elections should proceed, the question of election to rest with the courts.

In Washington, Johnson did not mention the phone talk, but it was known that before sending the wire he had held a long conference with President Roosevelt.

This gave rise to the belief that court action on the company's refusal to permit the national labor board to supervise the elections had become virtually unavoidable.

Weir told Johnson it was impossible for him to interfere with the election as arranged by the company's employees' organization without violating section 7-A of the recovery act guaranteeing workers the right of collective bargaining.

Employees' Arrangement

He explained that the employees, and not the steel company officials, has arranged details of the election whereby nominations were made at a "primary" last Monday. These nominees, 98 in number, are being voted upon today, with 49 to be elected.

The Labor Board ruled that nominations be made by petition and that stand was upheld by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel & Tin Workers, American Federation of Labor affiliate, which refers to the employees' organization as a "company union."

The steel company has long been opposed to the union, and last night in Steubenville union leaders urged their followers to refrain from voting at today's elections, Senator Robert Wagner, Labor Board chairman, who previously had warned Weir he is violating the recovery act, indicated the board may hold another election next week.

West Virginia state troopers are on duty at the Weirton plant to prevent any outbreaks, while Department of Justice agents are observing the elections at all three mills.

Open Season On Ducks is Ended

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 15—(AP)—

The open season on ducks, during which the hunters got the bad breaks, closed this afternoon.

The weather was warm and unfavorable for day of hunting most of the season, making for bad hunting conditions. Most of the nights were clear so that the waterfowl could be seen by moonlight and stay out of gunshot range during the daytime.

Waterfowl casualties also were cut down because the ducks became "educated" during the open season, said Acting Director C. F. Thompson of the Department of Conservation. Flocks would increase their altitude about 200 feet when flying over hunting grounds, he declared.

Hunters are permitted to keep ducks in storage through Christmas Day.

COUNTY BOARD AWAITS ACTION IN LEGISLATURE

Recess, Hopeful for State Liquor Control Statutes

With the hope that the state legislature may soon come to some decision on a hard liquor law which will give counties the right to license and regulate road house drinking places, and to consider a proposal to effect a settlement in the John Spratt damage action, the board members of the 1932 road and bridge committee and county Superintendent of Highways, the Board of Supervisors recessed their regular December session yesterday afternoon until December 21 at 10 A. M. The move came after a long session during which it was reported that the Spratt damage suit was the chief subject of discussion. The suit is in the sum of $10,000 and there were rumors current that an attempt was being made to settle the case out of court for less than one-fifth the amount.

State's Attorney Edward Jones

was called to meet with the board and answer several questions concerning the Spratt damage suit and the prospect for a state liquor regulatory law. The State's Attorney suggested to the board that the County Clerk be instructed to receive the county beer license, which amounts to $75 per year, in quarterly sums, to be paid in advance and effective the first of the year. The board took no action on the suggestion hoping to come to some final decision on liquor licenses and privileges at the adjourned session next week.

Buy Sheriff New Car

The purchasing committee recommended the purchase of a Chevrolet sedan for the use of the Sheriff's office from the J. L. Glassburn agency, the present Hudson sedan to be taken in trade. Three bids were received by the committee on cars for use in the Sheriff's office. The road and bridge committee presented a report favoring the addition of approximately one mile in Wyoming township, now connecting with LaSalle county's state aid road system, to the Lee county system, which action was unanimously concurred in by the board. Previous attempts to accomplish this had failed.

The petition of Annie Emory of this city for a blind pension was granted by the board upon the recommendation of the judiciary committee.

SPRING DROPPED IN FOR A BRIEF SURPRISE CALL

Was Welcome For She Melted Ice On Pavements This Morn

Chicago, Dec. 15—(AP)—Gentle spring dropped in for a surprise visit of a few hours this morning, wafting the temperature up to 38 at 7 A. M.

Must freezing on the streets last night had made traffic perilous.

The mercury rose through the night but downward again after reaching 38 and headed for a freeze again tonight.

A 16-year-old boy, Milton Christensen, was crushed last night when an automobile skidded on the ice and struck him. He is expected to die.

Martin Marks, 40, suffered a crushed leg when his car collided with another.

A third man was injured when his car skidded into a telephone pole. His skull was probably fractured.

WEATHER IN GENERAL

Snow, freezing rain or nose-diving mercury brought weather woes to many parts of the United States today, but at that the country was luckier than Europe.

Folk over there were just recovered from a furious storm that took almost 50 lives. England lay under an icy coat after a storm of almost unprecedented violence.

On the continent a cold wave that froze birds in the air was abating.

Several Deaths in U. S.

Several deaths occurred in the United States, among them a Brooklyn man who slipped on an icy street and fractured his arm, and a Bridgeton, N. J. pedestrian who lost his footing similarly.

Fort Fairfield, Me., bid for the honor of the nation's most frigid spot.

It cracked in a temperature of 44 below. Most of New England shivered, but temperatures in some other parts of the east rose.

New York City, swept by freezing rain, got all tangled up in disarrayed transport facilities. Subway trains ran as much as 40 minutes late. Ten thousand relief workers rejoiced in the task of clearing the streets.

Rescued Crew Lands

The freighter Blaireux brought to Brooklyn five it saved from the foundering schooner Adams 250 miles west of Bermuda during a raging storm last Monday.

Temperatures in the far west were dropping again today. Rain fell from Michigan to New York.

Boat service was resumed across the English Channel which had been swept by gales for two days. Seven additional deaths yesterday brought the number of storm dead in England to 35. France counted 11 dead.

Germany was held in a cold wave which brought temperatures of zero in Berlin and 13 to 18 degrees below in Silesia and East Prussia. So intense was the cold that birds froze in the air and swans and ducks had to be chopped from frozen ponds in Berlin.

Ice Hampered Traffic

Rain was expected to follow snow in the eastern United States and the Ohio valley today.

Sleet and ice hampered street traffic in Chicago and other midwest cities. North Dakota and Minnesota had heavy snow storms. Five children were injured when a school bus crashed into a truck at Sterling, N. D., during a sleet storm. Gale warnings were posted for Lake Michigan.

The temperature dropped sharply in the high Sierra region of California. In Washington flood waters were generally receding.

Abnormally warm weather prevailed over most of Texas and parts of Oklahoma. Oklahoma City, with the temperature at 74, had the warmest December 14 on record.

4,000,000 ON PAYROLL

Washington, Dec. 15—(AP)—The Civil Works Administration said today that more than 4,000,000 are now on its payroll.

This was the goal set by President Roosevelt in authorizing use of upwards of $400,000,000 for direct employment of persons on the relief rolls. It is expected that Congress will be asked to provide more funds for this purpose to carry the CWA into the spring months.

Harry L. Hopkins, Civil Works Administrator, told reporters his information shows that the full quota of employment planned for December 16 has been completed. He could not, however, give any definite figures and contented himself with the statement that 4,000,000 are employed.

He paid tribute to state and

Says Wallace Would Make 2nd Rate Co. Agent

Kankakee, Ill., Dec. 15.—(AP)—Governor William Langer of North Dakota told 2,000 farmers assembled at a mass meeting at the armory that what the farmer wants is "cost of production plus a reasonable profit."

The meeting last night was sponsored by the Farmers' Educational & Cooperative Union of America and Gov. Langer took it as an occasion to defend himself for the mortgage moratorium he called in North Dakota.

In the first place he said he had obliged banks, insurance companies and building and loan associations by declaring a moratorium in their favor, and thought it only fair to accord the same treatment to the "little fellow."

He said he instructed sheriffs not to seize lands or cattle on foreclosure proceedings.

"I promised," he said, "that I would not call out the troops, except to shoot the sheriffs. We have not had to shoot the sheriffs, and even the lawyers have not taken foreclosure actions to the Supreme Court."

Gov. Langer, a Republican, said he heartily favored President Roosevelt's recovery program. Of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace he was not so charitable.

"If Wallace would go to school a few more years," he said, "he would make a good second rate county agent."

EXTENSION OF RFC LIFE WILL BE AUTHORIZED

Otherwise Corporate Would End Activities Jan. 23rd.

Washington, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Extension of the active life of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for two years or more is expected in some administration circles to be recommended to Congress by President Roosevelt.

The financial arm of the government otherwise would withdraw from the lending field on January 23, however, both Roosevelt and Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the corporation, have stated that its extension will be asked.

Speaker Rainey recently said it would take only a few minutes to pass a resolution lengthening the RFC's active life.

The request may take one of two forms: that the life of the corporation be extended one year with further extension permissible on proclamation of the President; that it be extended indefinitely with the President having the power to declare the emergency past and direct winding up its affairs.

Through November 28, the RFC had authorized loans and other advances of $4,254,453,348 and made actual cash advances of $3,549,913,394.

INGREDIENTS IN NEW YORK HARD LIQUOR LISTED

Board of Health Took Action to Protect Purchasers

New York, Dec. 15.—(AP)—New York liquor buyers in the future must be told exactly what is in the bottle they get when they buy whiskey.

The Board of Health, after receiving reports on samples of liquor sold in various parts of the city, adopted an amendment to the sanitary code yesterday requiring distilleries to specify on their labels the ingredients that go into every bottle of whiskey sold here.

Dr. Shirley W. Wynne, Health Commissioner, disclosed that analysis of liquor labeled "blended whiskey" showed that some is composed of "some whiskey, alcohol, water and artificial coloring."

Whiskies of this type, he said, may not be harmful, but the public is entitled to know what it is buying.

He said that samples analyzed thus far had shown no harmful ingredients. He disclosed also that price is no criterion of quality. One brand selling at $1.50 a pint made a better showing than a $1.90 brand.

FILL CWA QUOTA
Springfield, Ill., Dec. 15.—(AP)—The state today promised jobs on highways for 22,800 additional unemployed men and thus filled the quota of 321,750 assigned to Illinois under the work relief program of the Federal Civil Works Administration.

Governor Horner announced that highway officials had accepted the responsibility of filling the quota. Today was the final deadline for complying with the federal re-employment program.

Of the Illinois total, 58,800 men or nearly one-fourth have been given highway jobs by the state.

Acting Director Robert Kinkery of the Department of Public Works and Buildings said the highway work would be started as soon as county administrators of the CWA assign men to the state's engineers.

The final allotment of 22,800 was assigned to 30 counties as follows: Bureau 143, Champaign 590, Cook 11,000, Christian 486, Fayette 78, Ford 68, Franklin 215, Fulton 402, Henderson 153, Henry 282, Jackson 167, Kane 806, Lawrence 52, Macoupin 476, McHenry 18, Madison 222, Marion 276, Marshall 80, Mercer 39, Monroe 25, Peoria 742, Pope 54, St. Clair 1,237, Saline 294, Sangamon 25, Stephenson 114, Tazewell 619, Vermillion 1,378, Washington 106 and Will 1,625.

As the shots were fired the killer and his woman companion fled out the front door, the man darting through a vacant lot and the woman into the arms of Policeman Hopkins.

At headquarters she gave her name as Mrs. Elaine de Kant Den, 32, but police said she was known also as Burton and Kant.

Last night six quads of officers took her on a raid of an apartment and learned that Hamilton had rented it November 19 under the name of Orval Lewis, and occupied it with three women. One of them, they said, was Mrs. Den.

In Other Crimes
Another, they said, probably was the wife of a Michigan City prisoner believed to have engineered the prison break but prevented in joining in it at the last moment.

Besides the killing of Stanley the Dillinger gang is held responsible for the slaying of a Lima, Pa. Sheriff several weeks after the penitentiary escape, when Dillinger himself was delivered from the Lima county jail. He had previously been paroled from the Indiana prison in June.

Since then the gang has been linked to a series of Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania bank robberies and are believed to have established headquarters in Chicago.

Beautiful Morning Wedding at Immanuel Luth'n Church

Thursday morning at 11 o'clock a very pretty wedding was solemnized by the pastor, Rev. A. G. Suechting. The church, which had been beautifully decorated with cedar arches and palms, was well filled with relatives and friends.

Taking the vows of holy matrimony were Miss Anita Neuman of South Milwaukee, Wis., and Frederick Fischer of LaMoille.

Preceding the wedding ceremony, Miss Velma Jacobs of Dixon, and Miss Margaret Gonnemann of Nachusa sang sweetly two duets, "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bond; and "A Prayer," by Thurlow Lorenz. They were accompanied at the organ by Mrs. John Salzman who also played the wedding march, "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin as the bridal party approached the altar. The double ring service was used.

The bride made a charming picture in her modern wedding gown of white tulle, simply but elegantly fashioned. She wore a long white tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bride's bouquet of pink roses and asters.

The maid of honor was Miss Gertrude Zabel of Watertown, Wis., wearing a gown of peach tulle and carrying a bouquet of asters and yellow roses.

The best man was Harold Ackerman of Ohio.

The bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Gonnemann of Nachusa wearing a blue tulle gown and carrying a bouquet of yellow roses and asters; and Miss Catherine Schaefer of Franklin Grove wearing a pale green tulle and carrying asters and yellow roses.

The ushers were Melvin and Marvin Fischer of LaMoille, brothers of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. A. Esterday of Madison avenue, the tables being beautifully decorated in yellow and white.

Mr. and Mrs. Fischer will make their future home in Van Orin, where he is a farmer. Both are popular young people.

The bride, who is a registered nurse, has for some time, been a nurse at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital. She is a most attractive young woman and her many friends join in extending best wishes for happiness and prosperity to the couple.

Meeting So. Dixon Unit Home Bureau

The South Dixon Unit of the Home Bureau met at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Wm. Fritts Dec. 12th in an all day meeting. At noon a delicious chicken and noodle dinner was enjoyed by all. There was a good attendance of members and four guests. As it was near the birthday of Mrs. Fritts, one of the members baked her a very delicious birthday cake, as Mrs. Fritts has been a willing and tireless worker for the unit.

At 1:30 the meeting was called to order and roll call was answered by "What I Would Like for Christmas."

The vice chairman gave a report on a meeting of vice chairmen which she attended explaining new plans for membership and dues, and about the county budget. Plans also were made to attend a school of recreation at Amboy, held on Wednesday of this week. At the close of the business meeting the lesson was given by Mrs. Wm. Hoyle, on "Roll Bandaging" which was well given, and also demonstrated so that each one would be able to apply the lesson, if needed.

Following the lesson a short recreation period was enjoyed, Mrs. Sauers winning the prize in a guessing contest.

A new member was welcomed to the unit, Mrs. Norman Miller. At the close of a most delightful and profitable day the meeting was adjourned to meet in January with Mrs. Wm. Hoyle.

Account of Golden Wedding for The John Schaefer

Many Dixon and Harmon people and others in this vicinity will be interested in the following account of a golden wedding, clipped from "The Roanoke Review," of Roanoke, Ind. The item refers to the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Schaefer, former Dixon residents, at their home west of Roanoke, Ind.

"One hundred and twenty relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Schaefer, two miles west of Roanoke, on October 15, to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer were former residents of Harmon, Ill., and came to Indiana in 1913, residing on a farm near Woodburn. In 1920 they moved to the farm where they still reside. They are the parents of ten children, all of whom were present to help them celebrate this happy occasion. They are: William and Herman of Harlan, Ind.; Geo. of Columbia City, Ind.; Phillip of New Haven, Ind.; Mrs. Bertha O. Siebern of Markle, Ind.; Fred, Henry and John and Mrs. Lena Schulte of Harmon, Ill.; Mrs. Anna Jeldene of Polo, Ill. They also have sixty grandchildren and three great grandchildren, many of whom were present. At the noon hour a basket dinner was served. The family reunited the first time in many years. They were seated around the family table. In the center was a large wedding cake decorated in yellow and on top was a miniature bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer received some very pretty presents. One of unusual interest was a quilt, pieced and quilted by Mrs. Lizzie Caldwell of Garden City, Kansas. Mrs. Caldwell, a sister of Mr. Schaefer, is now past eighty and was bridesmaid at the wedding of 50 years ago.

Some of the guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Chris Schaefer of Panola, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rinehart and daughter of Minook, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. William Martin and children, Mrs. and Mrs. Philip Blume and Mrs. Anna Lanham of Woodburn, Ind.

All departed wishing the couple many more happy years."

Fruit Puddings Use Up Crumbs

Plum puddings are ideal desserts for the winter menus. While we usually think of plum pudding in connection with Christmas, variations of it are welcomed by most dessert lovers.

The ages and tastes of her guests will enable the hostess to choose the pudding best suited to her needs. A rich plum pudding served with a rich sauce is not suitable for children, but there are plenty of delicious puddings that will please both children and adults without danger of over-taxing small digestions.

Stale bread and biscuit crumbs can often be used to advantage in fruit puddings. Cracker crumbs are also frequently used with the result that the puddings are very light and fluffy.

The following recipe uses up all left-over baking powder or soda biscuits, and the pudding is delicious.

Fig Pudding

1-2 lb. dried figs
1-2 cup suet
1 cup sugar
2 eggs

2 1-2 cups biscuit crumbs
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup sweet milk
1 teaspoon baking powder

Put figs and suet through food chopper. Add sugar and work until creamy. Add eggs well beaten, biscuit crumbs and salt. Mix and add milk with baking powder dissolved in it. Mix thoroughly and turn into a buttered and floured mold. Steam three hours and serve with whipped cream.

Raisin pudding uses cracker crumbs to make a pudding not too rich for older children.

Raisin Pudding

4 cups milk
1 1-2 cups broken crackers
4 tablespoons molasses
1 cup sugar
4 eggs

1 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons melted butter
1-2 teaspoon cinnamon
1-2 teaspoon nutmeg

1 1-2 cups seeded raisins
Scald milk and pour over crackers. Let stand until cool. Pour boiling water over raisins, cover and let stand until plump. Pour off any water not absorbed by the fruit. Beat eggs slightly and add to cracker and milk mixture with sugar, molasses, salt, butter and spices. Mix well and add plumped raisins. Pour into a well buttered baking dish and bake very slowly for two and one-half hours.

Stir twice during first half hour to prevent raisins from settling to the bottom of the dish. Serve with hard sauce or sterling sauce.

Sterling Sauce

1-4 cup butter
3-4 cup light brown sugar
3 tablespoons whipping cream
1-2 teaspoon vanilla

Work butter until very creamy with a wooden spoon. Slowly beat in sugar which has been rolled until smooth. Stir in vanilla and gradually beat in cream. Pile lightly in a dish and garnish with snips of candied cherries.

Rich Furnishings To Go At Auction

Chicago, Dec. 15.—(AP)—The luxurious household furnishings of the late Edith McCormick are to be placed on public sale starting Jan. 15.

This was announced by the Chicago Title & Trust Company, executor of Mrs. McCormick's will, after the approval yesterday by the Probate Court of the appointment of Michael Tauber & Company of Chicago and the American Art Association-Anderson Galleries, Inc., of New York as the concerns to conduct a joint auction. The New York sale to dispose of jewelry and silverware, is to be conducted from Jan. 2 to 6.

Although no definite announcement was made, the Herald Examiner said that "it is presumed that among the treasures to be auctioned here will be the famous Persian rug, formerly owned by the Emperor of Austria and bought by Mrs. McCormick for a reputed $175,000."

AN APPLE IN YOUR CLOTHES CLOSET—

Stale perfume, perspiration, shoe polish and other odors often become offensive in your clothes closet. An apple, into which cloves have been stuck, will absorb the various smells. Simply take an apple, stick whole cloves into it until the surface is entirely covered and a Zach a long string to the stem. Hang the apple up in the closet, being careful not to let it touch any of the garments.

Food Sale Benefit Needy Saturday

Saturday the ladies of the Waukegan club will hold a food sale at the Rodesch building. The proceeds will be used to spread a little Christmas cheer among the needy. Will the members please bring their donations in the forenoon, if possible.

DOUGLAS SHAW HOME THURSDAY—

LEGAL ORPHANS.

One of the minor problems accompanying repeal is that of deciding what to do with the people who now are in prison for violating the 18th amendment. According to official records, there are at present 3765 persons in federal prisons for violating a law which no longer exists. What are we to do with them?

It is pretty obvious that no blanket rule can be adopted. Many of these people, probably, ought to be released forthwith. They are men who were law-abiding in all respects but one, and they are not apt to violate any other laws if they are released.

But there are also many who ought to serve every day of their sentences. Some of our prohibition law violators were fairly tough babies.

A general amnesty which turned them loose to find some other way of preying on society would be a very expensive mistake.

GAINING MOMENTUM.

The public works program, which got under way slowly, is picking up speed; as it does, its ultimate object seems to grow mightily in size.

Washington correspondents are reporting that NRA economists are working on a plan under which the federal government might spend more than $13,000,000,000 in the next couple of years on slum clearance, rehousing, grade crossing elimination, and similar devices.

The major part of this work, it is claimed, ultimately would pay for itself. Meanwhile, enormous sums would be poured into the channels of trade, and then something like 4,000,000 men would get steady jobs.

The magnitude of this proposal would have dazed us a year ago. Now it doesn't. We are in a deep hole and we must make stupendous efforts to get out of it.

CRACKPOTS AND LUNATIC FRINGE.

Al Smith expressed his disbelief that "the democratic party is fated always to be the party of greenbackers, paper money printers, free silverites, currency managers, rubber dollar manufacturers, and crackpots."

Our dictionary does not contain the word "crackpot." By its context we judge that Governor Smith had in mind the class of persons Theodore Roosevelt described as "the lunatic fringe."

It was in 1912, when the Roosevelt progressive movement was taking on the hue of a religious crusade, that Roosevelt made the observation that every new movement has its lunatic fringe.

That the New Deal could be more immune from "lunatic fringe" than the Square Deal is hardly to be expected. Theodore Roosevelt admitted its presence in his campaign.

Politicians usually are not over-sensitive about the fringe, provided they get the votes.

Soon Scouty jumped up from the floor and said, "Well, I can't do much more with those Scout dolls. They all drill fine. Come on, let's pack them up."

"Oh Santa wants them, I expect, in boxes, so they won't get wrecked." Just then we Duncy shouted, "Look! I've found a fine toy pup."

"Be quiet, Tinymites! All bark. I'm going to see if it can bark." And then he pinched the little dog, and got a sudden thrill.

Instead of barking, it jumped out of Duncy's hands and bobbed about. Said Duncy, "Well just let it jump until it's had its fill."

"Why, that's one of those wind-up toys that's made to tickle girls and boys," said Coppy. "It will soon run down, and then our fun is over."

And, sure enough, the wee dog stopped, and on its little side it flopped. "It works," said Windy. "Put it back. Don't wind it any more."

Then Santa came and said, "Well, boys, I guess we'll have a lot of noise. I have some horns and drums and things that I want you to test."

"I guess you'll think it's pretty grand to form a dandy little band. Come on now, grab the instruments and do your very best."

Woe Coppy cried, "I'll blow the horn. Why, since the day when I was born I've much preferred that instrument. You'll hear sweet music, now."

Then Duncy cried, "I'm not so dumb. I'm going to beat upon the drum. All I need do is bang away. Just watch! I'll show you how."

"A big harmonica for mine," said Scouty. I can play one fine. I hope we get together, so the music turns out sweet."

And then they started in to play, and Santa loudly cried, "Hurrah! Each instrument works perfectly. I'm getting quite a treat."

INSULL IS TOLD HE MUST LEAVE GREECE JAN. 31

Given A Month's Extension: Must Seek New Asylum in Month

Athens, Dec. 15.—(AP)—The Greek government today granted Samuel Insull an extension to Jan. 31 in the length of time he will be allowed to remain in this country.

Previously, in refusing to renew the former American utilities operator's police residence permit, the government announced he would be forced to leave the country Jan. 31.

His present permit expires Dec. 31.

Insull requested and was granted the extension today after the Minister of the Interior had informed him that he would be expected to leave by the first of the year.

Has No Passport

He also was informed that his passport will be visaed to any country he chooses to visit after leaving Greece. However, as he has no passport he will be required to travel on temporary papers.

The aged fugitive, wanted in Chicago to face embezzlement charges, made formal application for the extension of the permit yesterday.

Within a few hours, the Premier himself announced the decision.

Indicted while in Paris in the autumn of 1932, he fled first to Italy and later to Athens as American agents sought his arrest and return.

Can't Be Delivered

There he appeared as when Greek courts twice held against American extradition moves. The permit decision ends that security, although it does not alter the fact that the government still can not, as one official said, "hand him over" to the United States.

Turning today toward possible new scenes of asylum, Insull faced the fact that he was without consular status as an American citizen. The United States has revoked his passport.

(And, at Washington, it was said the United States lacks extradition treaties only with Afghanistan, Persia, China, Egypt and the internationalized section of Morocco.)

STATE DEPT. SILENT

Washington, Dec. 15.—(AP)—State Department officials had no comment today when informed of press dispatches from Athens that the Greek government had granted an extension of Samuel Insull's police permit, allowing him to reside in Athens until January 31.

It was indicated no further negotiations seeking Insull's extradition from Greece will be made and that the administration will withhold any action until Insull leaves Greece.

State Department officials refused any information as to what action they would take when and if Insull goes to some other country.

OVER A BILLION COLLECTED FOR TREASURY NEEDS

Uncle Sam Busy Today Receiving and Paying Cash Out

Washington, Dec. 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's gold program was newly-rivited at the Treasury today amidst a billion-dollar swirl of government financing.

The White House itself was sponsor of the promise that gold purchases "will be continued" and of the warning that forecasts of international currency stabilization "immediate, near or at any time" would be "worse than a bad guess."

Acting Secretary Morgenthau, directing the first big financing job of his Treasury office, added that though the RFC gold price had remained unchanged during December at $34.01 an ounce, the quotation still was being set on a 24-hour basis.

Collect Over Billion

The Treasury financing involved collecting more than a billion dollars from a $950,000,000 security sale and income taxes, and paying out $727,000,000 on maturing issues and $114,000,000 in interest on the public debt.

Latest administration utterances on the controversial monetary policy were made after a White House conference by Roosevelt, Morgenthau, Attorney General Cummings, Governor Eugene Black of the Federal Reserve Board and Herman Oliphant, special counsel to the Treasury. There was a later meeting between the President and George L. Harrison, Governor of the New York Federal Reserve Bank.

Afterward, Stephen T. Early, a secretary to the President, said for him the discussions were "simply a continuation of financial conferences that are being held right along." He told newsmen any stabilization forecasts would be erroneous.

War Debt Payments

The United States pocketed today $8,998,123 in war debt payments—approximately one-seventh of the $152,952,637 due from eleven European nations.

Five countries tendered nothing; five offered token payments. Finland, the only one to meet an entire installment last June 15 again was alone in paying in full.

Inclusion of defaults of last December and June would bring the total due today to $310,676,370. The Finnish payment of $229,623, and the tokens leave $301,778,747 overdue on the $1,100,000,000 funded debts.

France, Poland, Belgium, Estonia and Hungary submitted no tokens. The five nations paying tokens and the totals due from them were:

Great Britain, $7,500,000 of $117,670,765.
Italy, $1,900,000 of $2,133,906.
Czechoslovakia $150,000 of $1,682,813.
Lithuania $10,000 of $105,474.
Latvia $8,500 of $180,706.

Governments meeting part of their obligations, officials say, will not be considered in default. Reduction or cancellation of debts and changes in the schedule of payments rests with Congress.

MANY GREETING CARDS WILL BE DELIVERED LATE

Failure Of Senders To Affix Proper Postage Is Cause

Postmaster, John E. Moyer, again calls attention to the fact that Christmas cards, mailed in unsealed envelopes bearing 1½ cents in postage, must not have written matter of any nature, except "Merry Christmas," "Season's Greetings," "Best Wishes" and the name and address of the sender, on the enclosure.

Yesterday seventeen Christmas cards, received in the Post Office, enclosed in unsealed envelopes bearing 1½ cents in postage stamps and one cent of the cards had written matter of a personal nature, placed thereon by the sender.

Some of these cards bore the name of the sender and were returned for the additional postage and those cards which did not bear the name of the sender, are being held in the Post Office and a notice for the postage due has been sent to the addressee, which must be received before the cards may be forwarded to their destination.

If the practice of placing written matter in unsealed envelopes with only 1½ cents postage continues it will mean that all such Christmas cards, mailed in the above named manner, will be laid to one side until after the rush period, to allow time to inspect every one and that will mean such cards will not be received by the addressee until several days, after Christmas.

With few, if any, exceptions, the seasons' greetings are printed on all cards which makes it unnecessary for the sender to write anything on the cards, but the sender's name and address.

Rival Miner Union Heads Killed Each Other Jury Decides

Harrisburg, Dec. 15.—(AP)—A verdict that William Swain and Clyde Williams, leaders of rival mine union factions, killed each other has been returned by a Coroner's jury which investigated the double slaying on Galatia's main street last Saturday night.

A dozen witnesses were examined by the Coroner's jury, but little new evidence was brought out.

Loren Pittman, friend of Swain, who was wounded, is recovering in a hospital at West Frankfort.

Swain's pistol never has been found.

BASEBALL TALK

NOW UP TO HOT STOVE LEAGUES

Major Leaguers End Annual Meetings In Chicago

Chicago, Dec. 15—(AP)—Baseball affairs today were the property of the hot stove leaguers for a long winter of discussion as to who had the better of it in a record three days of trading.

The annual major league meetings closed last night, with a decision by the magnates to adopt a uniform ball for both big circuits and as many minor organizations as can be brought into line. The question of radio broadcasting failed to come up for official consideration and the clubs will go on for another year, handling the problem as they see fit.

A discussion of Sunday double-headers ended in a compromise. It was decided to ban the synthetic holiday programs until after June 15. Part of the owners wanted the question to remain strictly one for the clubs to decide, while others favored prohibiting them until after July 4.

Plan World Tour

John B. Shibe, vice president of the Philadelphia Athletics, was voted permission to recruit an all-star team from the American League to make a world tour after the 1934 campaign. The National League was invited to participate but declined.

A piece of legislation also was passed for the protection of players sold by major league clubs to minor organizations. Under an amendment to the by-laws, a major league club must guarantee a player's salary if he is sent to a minor league team which later disbands.

The trading was an exclusive American League proposition, the older circuit failing to come up with a deal. The bulk of the unusual amount of business was accomplished by the Boston Red Sox, who obtained the Athletics two star left-handers, Bob Grove and Rube Wagoner, and infielder Max Bishop. They also obtained Carl Reynolds from St. Louis, and promise to figure in next year's title race.

Huddle Unproductive

The closest the National League came to doing anything was a two-hour huddle participated in by the Chicago Cubs, St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Braves before the rally broke up last night. The Cubs offered Pat Malone in a proposed deal with the Cards, but the latter declined to part with any first string material. Boston wanted Kiki Cuyler, but the Cubs didn't even give the idea serious thought. Cincinnati's representatives left the meeting without announcing the identity of next year's manager. Bob O'Farrell, veteran catcher of the Cardinals, had pulled into the lead as the favored candidate.

Rainey Endorses Free Silver Plan

Washington, Dec. 15—(AP)—Speaker Rainey, at a press conference, has declared himself for free coinage of silver and said if President Roosevelt proposed such a step at the coming session it would "go through the House like it was greased."

"I think the House would favor free coinage of silver, but the administration would have to take the initiative," said the House leader.

Rainey said he did not know how the President felt on the silver question. He added, however, that he felt whatever the administration money policy was it would be upheld by Congress.

"It would be a method of avoiding inflation," he said. "Half the world is using silver and prefers silver. After all, Bryan was right."

Amboy—The high school basketball teams played a double header with Paw Paw here Friday night. The first string won ten to eight in an exciting contest in which both quintets displayed plenty of speed. The local second lost an equally close battle in the final minutes of play, 12 to nine.

The Junior high school chalked up a 23 to 5 victory over St. Anne's in the curtain raising event.

The Junior high squad had the better of the argument from the start. Being taller and faster they had little difficulty in piling up a substantial lead in the first half.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

BY JIMMY DONAHUE
NEA Service Sports Writer

The bugaboo of all bowlers is a split. You may be rolling your best game of the season when one of these linxes bobs up to spoil things and throws you off your stride for the rest of the night.

Splits are most often the result of a direct headpin hit—a smash roll on which carries the headpin through the center of the pile and leaves two or more pins standing on opposite sides of the alley.

Too much speed also results in frequent splits. The ball, losing its "english" through speed, plows through the pins without "working" and leaves two or three of them standing.

In trying for splits, first remember that they bob up in the best bowler's game. Don't think they're impossible to make. Make up your mind to get that important spare and then shoot a "thin" ball for the pin nearest to the center and farthest from the pit. Shave the pin on the gutter side and send it toppling in the direction of the other pin. If the execution is perfect, a spare results.

In a case of a three-pin split, it is better to try for two, making sure of them and hoping for the third, than to concern one on making the split.

DEMPSEY LOSES FIGHT AGAINST GARDEN'S POWER

Loughran's Consent to Meet Champion Is Blow to Jack

New York, Dec. 15—(AP)—Jack Dempsey's efforts to break the monopoly Madison Square Garden long has held on the heavyweights had met with a decided setback today as Tommy Loughran continued negotiations looking to a title match with Primo Carnera at Miami Feb. 22.

Dempsey still has a leading contender under his wing, Max Baer, and seems to have the inside track with another, Max Schmeling, but Loughran's return to the Garden fold has almost ruined the old champion's plans.

Although no contracts have been signed, the Loughran-Carnera bout was considered definitely "in." Carnera, here for a 48-hour visit, too busy engaged at a bankruptcy hearing yesterday to get around to the Garden and talk terms, but expected to do so today before returning to Italy on the same boat that brought him here yesterday morning.

Carnera Is Ready

Carnera, interviewed on his arrival, made it clear that he was ready to fight Loughran anywhere, any time, so the Garden should have no trouble from that quarter, especially since the champion already is under contract for a title defense under Garden promotion.

Loughran wants the fight, too, but has been holding out for a little bigger cut than the 12-1-2 per cent usually awarded the challenger. The veteran Philadelphian, however, is not likely to let a few dollars stand in his way. He's convinced he can whip Carnera and win the heavyweight title. He's never had much trouble with the oversized heavyweights like Victorio Campolo and Ray Impellittere.

Jack's Plans Wrecked

With Loughran on the verge of signing with the Garden, Dempsey's winter plans, involving two bouts, have been wrecked. Jack was to have been associated in the promotion of a Loughran-Schmeling match either here or in Atlantic City January 31 and planned to match the winner with Baer in San Francisco Feb. 22.

But Joe Smith, Loughran's manager, has turned down the Schmeling bout in favor of a whack at the title, leaving Dempsey with two good heavyweights but no match. Since Baer already has whipped Schmeling, there'd be no particular point to match them again.

Should Carnera beat Loughran, Dempsey and the Garden might get together and pool their resources for a Baer-Carnera bout in the summer.

Green to Appeal to Federal Court

Chicago, Dec. 15—(AP)—U. S. District Attorney Dwight Green announced Thursday that he will shortly ask the United States District Court at Freeport to dissolve the county injunction which blocks the NRA regional board from acting in the fight between the National Lock Company of Rockford and its employees.

The injunction was issued several days ago by Circuit Judge Edward D. Shurtleff, who yesterday refused a government motion to transfer the case to Federal court.

The case will go to Federal court anyway, Green said, either on a motion to dissolve the injunction or to dismiss the lock company's bill.

NO IMMEDIATE CHANGE IN U. S. SUPREME COURT

Four Justices, Eligible to Retire, Still Like Their Work

Washington, Dec. 15—(AP)—No immediate changes in United States supreme court personnel are expected by persons in close touch with the high tribunal although four of the present members could retire.

These members are Justices Van Devanter, McReynolds, Brandeis and Sutherland, two Democrats and two Republicans. Retirement on full pay is provided for those Justices who have reached the age of seventy and have served ten years on a federal bench.

Justice Brandeis became eligible November 13, 1926; Van Devanter on April 17, 1929; McReynolds on February 3, 1932; Sutherland on October 2, 1932.

In Good Health
All four, however, are in good health and seemingly enjoy their work. They are prompt in their attendance at court sessions, deliver their share of opinions, and outwardly indicate no present intention of resigning.

The court as now constituted consists of four Justices—Van Devanter, McReynolds, Sutherland, Butler—classified as conservatives, and three—Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo—classified as progressives. On such a division the balance of power lies in the votes of Chief Justice Hughes and Justice Roberts.

The progressive group frequently controls although the Chief Justice and Roberts do not always vote alike or with the progressives.

Daily Health Talk

MATERNAL MORALITY

The decline in the rate of American maternal mortality has not kept pace with the general improvement in the public health and with the reduction in mortality due to other causes.

Between 1920 and 1931 the general death rate in the United States declined from 13 per 1,000 to 11.1 per 1,000. The infant mortality rate dropped from 25.8 per 1,000 live births in 1920 to 6.16 in 1931.

The maternal mortality rate, however, declined only from 8 per 1,000 in 1920 to 6.6 in 1931.

When women die in childbirth, what do they die of and why? That is the large question to which a committee of the New York Academy of Medicine has devoted three years' study, carefully reviewing every maternal death in New York City between 1929 and 1933.

Each death was investigated carefully within a week of its occurrence. On the basis of the facts gathered, each case was reviewed by a jury of obstetricians and a verdict of "preventable" or "not preventable" was returned.

When the verdict was "preventable," the case was further analyzed to determine where the fault lay.

The substance of this three-year study and the committee's recommendations were recently published by the Commonwealth Fund in a volume entitled "Maternal Mortality in New York City." The facts brought forth in this survey are as follows:

In the three years 1930-1932 there were in New York City 2,041 deaths associated with childbirth. Thirteen hundred and forty-three of these deaths or roughly, two-thirds of all the deaths studied, were considered preventable.

The fault in this tragic situation is widespread. The committee found that the reason why the preventable deaths were not prevented was due to lack of medical skill, poor medical judgment, bad hospital administration, incompetent midwifery, as well as to ignorance and indifference among prospective mothers.

ter, as the old teachers put it. The world is restless and torn with strife because it has lost faith in its own oneness and unity—its vision of God has grown dim.

Five hundred years ago a wise teacher wrote: "God will be known and if we know Him and loved Him we should have patience and be in great rest, and we should be satisfied with all that He does."

Here is deep wisdom, and to forget it is the way to futility.

OUR RESTLESS AGE

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton
"There is sorrow on the sea; it cannot be still." So one of the ancient prophets wrote, as he looked out upon his tanged, turbulent time. It was restless, tumultuous, agitated, unhappy. Lashed by a storm, its waves of events beat on the soul like a surf.

If the prophet could so describe his generation, what shall we say of our age? The world today is disappointed, embittered, confused, violent. One explosion of revolution follows another, and we grope our way toward dawn or night in cloud and whirlwind.

But is our age really more restless than others have been? Probably not. Perhaps we only think so, because we know all that goes on in the world today. The debates in the League of Nations, and the pitiful heart-tragedy in the city slums are recited to us. All the doings of the world pile in upon us every day, pell mell.

Ought we to be peacefully at rest in the world as it is? Surely not. It is better to be dissatisfied—or at least unsatisfied—and restless than to be content with injustice, oppression, robbery, and all the rest that goes on about us. Wild rebellion is better than to be 'corrupt and contented,' as was said of one of our cities.

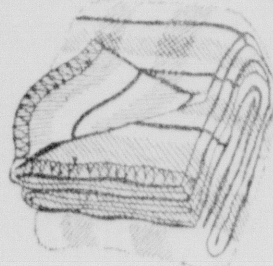

Yet we can be restless to no result, and it takes the taste out of life. We can fret ourselves to fury and futility, and get nowhere. It is this kind of restlessness that is so hard to bear, and we are very tempted to accept some lesser thing in order to escape it.

No one can do much good for man until he has found a certain peace of heart—peace at the cen-

INFLATION NOT
'CURE-ALL' FOR
FARM AILMENTSSec. Wallace's Warning Given in His Annual Report

Washington, Dec. 15. —(AP)—The reiterated warning that currency inflation is "not a cure-all" for farmers' troubles was issued by Secretary Wallace today in his annual report to President Roosevelt.

Inflation would raise general price levels he said, but would not eliminate the disparity between prices of agricultural and non-agricultural products, which he termed essential to permanent farm relief.

Of the administration's gold purchase plan he said:

"It may not have any great effect for some time on livestock and dairy prices, x x Eventually, however, most of our raw material prices should rise to the extent to which the gold in the dollar is reduced."

Wallace recommended regulation of grain exchanges and separation of savings from commercial banks in order to strengthen country banks.

He blamed the rise in farm prices from last March to July on inordinate speculation in the commodity markets and told the president "it is imperative for the government to supervise, and if necessary to regulate, grain speculation, because such supervision is the only means of preventing abuses."

Balanced Production
Balancing production with demand was the keynote of Wallace's report. He predicted a permanent program of crop control in line with needs of the domestic market. "The adjustment act, he said, is a program for economic planning—the first of its kind in the nation's history."

The emergency pig and sow purchases were expected to result in higher hog prices during the 1933-34 marketing year, the corn-hog plan was in its initial stages, and the dairy products plan had not been formulated; the tobacco program resulted in a decrease of more than 18,250,000 pounds in 1933 production.

Farmers will have been paid before the end of the year approximately $300,000,000 in direct benefit payments in return for agreeing to reduce crop and livestock production in 1934, the report continued.

Admitted Temporary
The entire adjustment program was said to be admittedly a temporary plan, since it had the disadvantage of taking out of production both efficient and inefficient areas.

"In the long run," Wallace held it would be cheaper for the government to purchase farms than to lease them, x x Restriction will become less necessary as the domestic demand for farm products revive, x x It is therefore necessary to consider gradually reducing and controlling the size of the farm plant as a whole as a means of supplementing and in some measure displacing the emergency policies."

Farm mortgage indebtedness in 1932 was estimated by Wallace at $5,500,000,000 and carrying charges in this he said, would take about 3 per cent of the gross farm income. He said the Farm Credit Administration had made progress in alleviating that situation.

The probable gross farm income for 1933 was estimated at $6,100,000,000, plus $300,000,000 in benefit payments. The 1932 figure was $5,142,000,000, that for 1931 was $6,900,000,000.

Wallace said farm prices had come up from their February all-time low but a disparity still remained between the prices received by farmers and those they must pay because of price increases on manufactured goods.

Friction between two pieces of leather, usually the insole and the outsole, usually is the cause of squeaking shoes.

Health is half of success

Men achieve their goal with vitality and drive. And so many get held back from their best by a common ailment: constipation. dulls energy, often causes headaches, sleeplessness. It takes the life out of your day's work.

Correct constipation by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies bulk to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to tone the intestinal act.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Within the body, it becomes a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. How much better than using pills and drugs—so often harmful.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN also has iron for the blood. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Stabilization Talk
New To Morgenthau

Washington, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Acting Secretary of the Treasury, again has denied reports of negotiations for a currency stabilization agreement with Great Britain and France.

Shortly after the government had repeated the price of $34.01 an ounce for the twelfth successive day, Morgenthau told news men there was nothing in new reports of stabilization, despite reported 7 to 5 betting odds in Wall Street on early action.

Asked specifically about a statement by Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) that negotiations with the Bank of England were understood to be heading at dollar stabilization at 62 cents, Morgenthau said:

"I don't know anything about it."

DAVID BANNISTER undertakes to find out who killed TRACY KING, orchestra leader, in his hotel apartment. Bannister is an author and former newspaper man. He works on the murder case with the CASEY, star reporter on the Post.

Among those suspected are JULIET FRANCE, blood and pretty and known to have visited King shortly before his death; HERMAN SCURLACH, who wrote King a threatening letter; and JOE PARROTT, down-and-out vandyke actor. It is also known that MELVINA HOLLISTER, middle-aged spinster, had quarreled with King recently.

AL DRUGAN, friend of King's, is found dead in a wrecked automobile.

Bannister persuades the police chief to let Juliet come to his home, come, ostensibly as a guest, on the theory that if she believes herself free they can learn more about her.

Parrott is located in St. Louis and a detective is sent to bring him back. Bannister, walking home, sees Juliet.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXII

THE girl did not see Bannister. She was walking rapidly, her hands in her pockets. In the dim light from the street lamp he caught a glimpse of the green suit, knew at once that it was Juliet France.

But where had she been and what had she been doing? Bannister cursed at Jordan, the "house man" who was supposed to be keeping a constant watch over the girl. Then he saw the mail box. It stood on the corner, not a dozen feet from where she had been when he first noticed her. So that was the explanation!

Bannister quickened his step and caught up with her. "Aren't you afraid of getting lost?" he asked.

She turned. Was it fright or confusion that brought the girl's hand to her throat? Then suddenly she smiled. "Oh, it's you! I—I didn't recognize you."

They walked along together. "It's dark," Bannister objected, "and you're a long way from the house. Aren't you afraid to be out alone?"

Juliet France shook her head. "No," she said. "What is there to be afraid of?"

"Nothing—I hope."

She looked up at him and her eyes were not smiling now. They studied his face searchingly. After an instant she said, "I just wanted a little walk. I didn't think there could be any harm in that. I've been in the house all day."

Her tone was so repentant that Bannister smiled. "Perhaps there isn't," he said. "Only after this I think it would be better to take your walks while the sun is shining. Tell me, what have you been doing all day?"

She gave him a resume of hours spent at reading, at household tasks and resting.

"Your aunt let me help make the chocolate cake you're going to have for dinner tonight," she told him broadly.

"Aunt Kate knows how to cook all right," Bannister admitted.

"Oh, indeed she does! And beside that, she's a darling!"

They had reached the house now and Bannister pushed open the door. The warm air and subdued lamplight was delightful after the cold and dark.

THERE was no time to talk to Jordan until after dinner. Then Bannister found the policeman in the basement, putting a shovel of coal on the fire. Bannister lowered his voice discreetly. "Listen," he said, "did you know Miss France left the house this afternoon?"

Jordan's eyes were reproachful. "I know it, Mr. Bannister, but what could I do about it? Mrs. Hewlett sent me to the grocery store to buy some butter! I didn't know the girl had gone until after I got back. Listen, if I've got to be running around doing errands all the time I might as well not be here. How do you think I can keep track of what that girl's doing if I've got to be an errand boy? I can't!"

Bannister interrupted, promising to do what he could about the situation. He'd have a talk with his aunt, he said. Jordan was right; he couldn't keep watch over affairs in the household if he were sent on errands.

"She did it this morning too," the policeman went on, aggrieved. "Sent me to the dry cleaners. I took over half an hour and I ran nearly all the way back. No sir, I can't be responsible if things are going to go on like that!"

Bannister assured him that they wouldn't. Privately he wondered how he was to manage Aunt Kate, but managed she must be.

"I think the girl went out to mail a letter," he confided. "I met her over on Lawrence avenue right beside the mail box. Did she do any telephoning?"

Jordan shook his head. "I kept a close watch for that," he said. "When I wasn't running errands!"

Evidently his pride had been offended seriously. "She didn't go near the phone while I was here."

"Well," Bannister said, "if she leaves the house tomorrow, follow her. Don't let her out of your sight."

"I'll try to, Mr. Bannister, only if Mrs. Hewlett—"

"Never mind about Mrs. Hewlett. You see where the girl goes and what she does."

Juliet France sang that evening. She did it at Kate Hewlett's urgent request. She sang a number of English ballads and an oriental love song and then she sang, "Annie Laurie." Her voice was not quite low enough for a contralto and its range seemed limited but the tones were sweet and clear.

Mrs. Hewlett praised the singing elaborately. Bannister said less. He was wondering if Juliet
